

Jiangsu Fuzi Miao Culture Festival

Jiangsu celebrates its famous cultural festival, Fuzi Miao Culture Festival! During the beginning of late April, in the capital of Jiangsu, Nanjing, the event is hosted at the Confucius temple.

Grand Festivals of Jiangsu

Fuzi Miao (Nanjing), the temple of the famous Chinese Confucius, holds an annual culture festival that lasts for fifteen days. Every year, during the beginning of late April, Nanjing reveals its uniqueness and festival, being enjoyed by families and friends. Many different types of exotic and traditional Chinese performances are prepared for the visitors, especially, the Jiangsu folk dances such as the Lantern dance, Lion dance and River oyster dance, all of which will amaze on viewers.

The costumes of these performances are more than you could ever expect. The lion dance performance shows off radiant colors of yellow, red, and green. You will be amazed by the flow of radiant cloths. Also, folk crafts from Jiangsu province are shown to everyone in this particular event. The event will be held in the public square, directly in front of the Fuzi Miao

Confucian Temple. Attending this festival and its many diverse performances, visitors will have an excellent view into Chinese culture.

In the Fuzi Miao, during this festival, you will be able to see craftsmen working on traditional paper cuttings, carving trees, and Iron Strand pictures and sculptures. You will be able to appreciate their magnificent works and can even chose to purchase one or two (or more).

At night, the environment changes...The buildings around this area light up with a mixture of yellow and red lights. The night view of the city and Fuzi Miao will truly welcome your presence to Nanjing.

Also, special foods are offered during this period... adding more value to your visit, allowing you to truly Taste Jiangsu.

To taste Jiangsu is to know China ®
