

Jiangsu is online!

A unique characteristic of the 2010 Shanghai World Expo is the link between off and online initiatives. Jiangsu is ahead of the game in both!

Online Expo Pavilion

Jiangsu Province is one of the leads of Expo 2010. Cities of Jiangsu Province are featured as best practices and show the best they have to offer. You can see it at Expo, or visit it online!

The Jiangsu pavilion can be visited through the following website: <http://pavilion.expo.cn/p3002/ssize/index.html>.

Here, you can find information on the attractions of Jiangsu and even interesting trips to take. The interactive features will guide you through 1 day, 2 days or even specially made custom tours! What are you waiting for?

Through a detailed Flash function, the website ties together colors and sounds, appealing to mind and soul, making you even more interested in the region.

Attractions can also be visited. Eight themes have been planned, being them: silhouettes of the city, green mountains, limpid lakes and rivers, ancient and famous Buddhist and Taoist temples and monasteries, ancient waterborne towns, places of historic interest, grand banquets of delicacy, marvelous creations, and finally oasis amusement parks.

If you don't get a chance to visit the Expo in person, visit Jiangsu's online pavilion! You won't regret it!
